Holistic Coasts:

Adaptive Management of Changing Hazards, Risks, and Ecosystems

A Summary Report based on the 4th Assembly of the Gilbert F. White National Flood Policy Forum
Arlington, Virginia
2012

Six Recommendations came from the 2013 Holistic Coast Forum

- Establish a national holistic coast framework
- State and local leadership is key
- Align federal policy and programs
- Balance Human and Environmental needs
- Invest in science and data to yield savings
- Those that benefit should pay

The image shows a screenshot of the ASFPM Foundation website. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for "ASFPM Foundation", "ASFPM", "Scholarship", "Support Flood Loss Reduction", and "Suggestions". Below this is a banner with the ASFPM logo and several images related to flood management. On the left side, there is a vertical menu with buttons for "Inside the Foundation", "Activities", "Flood Policy Forum", "Fundraising", and "We Remember Gilbert F. White". A red arrow points to the "Flood Policy Forum" button, which has a dropdown menu showing "About", "2013 Forum", "2010 Forum", "2007 Forum", and "2004 Forum". In the center, there is a "Remember" section. Below that, there are sections for "MISSION STATEMENT" and "VISION STATEMENT". At the bottom, there is a "Flood Manager" logo and a "Donate" button. A browser window is overlaid on the right side of the page, displaying a presentation slide titled "Holistic Coasts: Adaptive Management of Changing Hazards, Risk, and Ecosystems". The slide features the ASFPM logo and text: "Holistic Coasts: Adaptive Management of Changing Hazards, Risks, and Ecosystems. A Summary Report based on the 8th Assembly of the Gilbert F. White National Flood Policy Forum, Arlington, Virginia, December 2013".

Worst Flooding in a Generation Hits Jefferson
25-Year Flood has hit Jefferson

This just in. A flood on the scale of a 25-year flood has hit the County. Hundreds left homeless. We now cut to the Mayor's news conference:

ASFPM Foundation State Symposia

The 2010 National Forum focused on the need to capture flood risk indicators at state, regional, and local levels

In response, the Foundation annually has solicited proposals from State Chapters to co-sponsor a symposium

Application due in August of the preceding year

Foundation donates $5,000 to match the State's $5,000

- ASFPM Foundation members and Chapter leaders all agree that these State Symposia have succeeded in its objectives to:
 - Engage Chapter members;
 - Explore differences in scope and focus; and,
 - Discuss issues at the state and local level, and plan out potential future actions.
 - 2011 IN & CO - 2013 TX & GA – 2014 FL
 - 2015 will be IL and AZ

National Building Museum

ASFPM Foundation and ASFPM, are sponsors of the new exhibition at the National Building Museum in Washington, DC entitled “Designing for Disaster.”

Doors opened May 2014 and runs through August 2, 2015

Designing for Disaster* exhibition focuses on how to reduce the impact of natural disasters, and explores disaster mitigation and resiliency as an evolving science

For more information about the National Building Museum, please visit www.nbm.org. Check out the Designing for Disaster blog at <http://designing4disaster.tumblr.com/>.
